CFFU LISTSERV RULES AND POLICY

As of March 2009 *

POLICY #1: 3-2009

PLEASE NO JOKES

I know we have a great group of fun and fun loving guys and gals in the club and on this list. However, one of the primary reasons people leave lists like this, is being overwhelmed by jokes. If you want to personally e-mail members of the club with jokes, that's obviously fine. But jokes shall not be sent using this listserv.

POLICY #2: 3-2009

ONLY "MEMBERS IN GOOD STANDING" MAY BE ON THE LISTSERV

Only "Members in good standing" may be on the listserv (one per individual membership and multiple family membership).

POLICY #3: 3-2009

MULTIPLE E-MAIL ADDRESSES OKAY

Members in good standing may have up to two e-mail addresses on the listserv, if this is simply a convenience for themselves, for example getting e-mails at both work and home. Multiple e-mails are not allowed for individual memberships if the purpose is to share with others, see Policy #2.

POLICY #4: 3-2009

LISTSERV NOT TO BE USED WHEN YOU WANT TO REACH JUST A FEW PEOPLE

In a case when you want to reach a handful of members, e-mail them directly. E-mail addresses may be found in the CFFU roster. If you don't have a roster, let the club Membership Director know. The Membership Director is listed in every issue of On The Fly and on the CFFU website Officers page.

POLICY #5: 3-2009

LISTSERV TO BE USED ONLY FOR CFFU/FLY FISHING RELATED ISSUES

The listserv is to be used only for e-mails that relate to Club business and Fly Fishing. "Okay topics" include: meeting reminders, fishing reports, information on upcoming outings, information on club activities i.e. the ISE sport show, conservation issues, or questions on any aspect of fly fishing – where to go, how to fish. We'll allow a good deal of latitude, but the e-mail SHALL relate to club business and/or fly fishing in some manner.

POLICY #6: 3-2009

NO ATTACHMENTS TO E-MAILS (They will be automatically removed)

Unfortunately many members of CFFU do not use or regularly update virus protection software on their computers. As a result, I (Gregory Shaffer) as moderator have set the listserv to strip all attachments from e-mails. The chance of both personal and/or business computers being infected, and files lost, is simply not acceptable. And yes, we have some viruses in the past before the attachment option was turned off. Note that you may send a web address (URL's) in the text of the body of an e-mail, and you can cut and paste text into an e-mail. For other graphic items you may wish to ask people to e-mail you and you can send info, photos, etc. directly to those interested. Another option is to contact the Webmeister about putting the info n the CFFU web page. The Webmeister is listed in the front of every issue of On The Fly, or can be contacted here through the e-mail icon on the home page.

POLICY #7: 3-2009

Those members that fail to adhere to these guidelines and with concurrence of the Board of Directors, will receive a warning regarding the specific policy issue. Any future violations will result in the member being removed from the listserv.
